WELCOME

Dear colleagues,

In 2012 we will welcome you again to the Frankfurter Meeting.

The meeting is growing since 1998 and the venue has to be changed again. After the unforgettable atmosphere in the plenary hall of the old town hall of Frankfurt (Roemer) we moved 2010 into the larger venue of the Frankfurt Zoo. Hosting IFSO 2011 in Hamburg with more than 2.700 participants we planned to organize the 7th Frankfurt Meeting in 2012 in the best location in Frankfurt, the historic hall of the palm garden

www.palmengarten-gastronomie.de

During the last meetings we organized live-transmissions of advanced laparoscopic and NOTES-procedures from all over the world. The quality of the transmission and discussions were always high, but many of the live-surgeons were missing the social events and personal contact with colleagues and friends. Therefore we are going back to our experiences of many live-surgeries from our own hospital. Michel Gagner, Raul Rosenthal, Jacques Himpens, Jean- Marc Chevallier and other will join the Meeting and will perform the surgeries here in Frankfurt.

The scientific discussions can continue in the evening with a dinner and a glass of wine or German beer.

We look forward to meeting you in Frankfurt.

Now You Can

Broaden Your Options for Treating Obesity and Type 2 Diabetes at the Same Time

EndoBarrier Therapy is a breakthrough treatment option for obese, type 2 diabetic patients unable to reach their therapeutic goals with conventional drug therapy.

Delivered and removed endoscopically, EndoBarrier is a flexible, tube-shaped liner that creates a barrier between ingested food and the duodenum/ proximal jejunum, mimicking the effects of gastric bypass surgery.

To learn more about this transformational treatment option, visit us at Stand 10 or on the internet.

Clinical studies of EndoBarrier Therapy have shown that more than 80 percent of patients are able to reach their target blood sugar levels ( $HbA1c < 7$ ) and lose an average 20 percent of their total body weight in one year,<sup>1,2,3</sup> which may lead to a reduction in diabetes-related complications.

SURGICAL TRAINING

Bariatric Suturing Techniques

T. Carus

Course Director: T. Carus (Bremen)

Target Audience:

With the surgical training we address laparoscopic surgeons, which do not have experience with certain surgical techniques in the bariatric field.

The course will be held in German by Prof. Thomas Carus, who has been teaching for many years in the Neuweker Nahtkurs laparoscopic suturing techniques. www.nahtkurs.de

Course Objectives:

Next to basic techniques like laparoscopic suturing and knotting techniques, the use of stapling devices is a major aim in the courses. Therefore different anastomotic techniques will be trained: gastro-entero-anastomosis, entero-entero-anastomosis and band placement.

The participants will have the possibility to gain help and support from experienced German surgeons.

In the surrounding of the historic Gallery Hall it will be an extraordinary course.

Course language:

German - English
